INTO AN ICEBERG.
NARROW ESCAPE FROM DESTRUCTION OF A STEAMER.

Struck by a Mountain of Ice and Flashed into Paper—The Captain's Account of the Occurrence—Another Close Call at Sea.

HADRIAN, N. S., May 21.—The steamer Deacona arrived disabled and presented a curious appearance as she docked. Her stern from the sixteen foot draught-work for ten feet or more up is damaged back about three feet on the port and five feet on the starboard side above the steam split perpendicular, as though struck by an immense battering-ram. Capt. Langston reports: "We left Charante May 8 and passed out of the river May 9. We had the weather to the Bar and passed the first iceburg Saturday morning, the 10th inst., at 7 o'clock. The wind was then southerly and the weather misty. About 3 p. m. the wind shifted to the north and the weather cleared up. The night dark and cloudy. There was no fog or ice. The steamer was going at full speed. At 10 p. m. the second iceburg was passed, the wind being southwest. At 11 p. m. we saw what appeared to be a fog bank on our starboard bow. Being apprehensive of danger, orders were given to put the helm hard a starboard, the engine at the same time being stopped. Then we could see that the supposed fog bank was ice. As it was impossible to avoid the ice by the use of the helm the engines were backed full speed, but they had not been moving in this direction over a minute and the crew had scarcely had time to leave the forecastle before the ship came in violent collision with the iceburg, making a terrible crash. The iceburg had come in full view when the engines were running full speed astern. The crew thought the steamer would sink immediately, and preparations were hurriedly made to abandon her, while the glittering tower of ice creakingly disengaged and slowly drifted on."

The captain made an examination of the bow and discovered that the ice had struck the bow and the collision-bulkhead. It was also found that the ship was making no water. Being a steel ship the plates had not broken, but were simply doubled in, forming a sort of breakwater for the bulkhead. No further accident occurred, but thick weather was experienced until the steamer's arrival in port. After discharging her Halifax freight the Deacona will proceed to Montreal without waiting for repairs.

Wedge in the Ice.
QUERREY, May 21.—The crew of the Norwegian ship Moon, lost in a collision with an iceburg, arrived yesterday. They report the ship having become firmly jammed in the iceburg. The boats were got out. Twelve men got into the first boat, which was speedily carried off by the vessel's rough sea. Another boat was got out, but she was once swamped and filled. Matters had begun to look serious for those on the vessel, when the first boat managed to get within hailing distance and a line was thrown to her and she was hauled alongside. The remainder of the crew succeeded in boarding her, except one, Johann Rohrt, a native of Denmark, who is lost. The captain was last to leave the vessel and had a very narrow escape, being precipitated into the water and carried down a considerable distance, losing consciousness. The crew, however, notwithstanding the stress, managed finally to rescue him. They had barely got clear when the huge iceberg toppled over on the doomed vessel, cutting her in two.

A Michigan Village Destroyed.
DETROIT, Mich., May 21.—A report reaches here, via Chobogyan, that Eastport, a village of Antrim county, has been more than half destroyed by forest fires. There is only a few weeks' mail to Eastport and no way of verifying.
No news of further spread of fires has been received. All reports are in regard to the fire of last Friday, Saturday and Sunday's fires. The rains of Monday have undoubtedly quenched them to such an extent that no considerable further damage may be looked for at present.
Indians on the Frontier Path.
WASHINGTON CITY, May 21.—Acting Indian Commissioner Stevens has received the following telegram from Agent at San Carlos, Arizona: "Four Chincha chiefs with about fifty of their bucks, all under military control, left the reservation from Fort Apache, Sunday night, going south, presumably to Old Man's foot. Scouts and Indian scouts are in pursuit. It has no effect upon my Indians here; they are about their homes and farms as usual, and thoroughly loyal."

SEMINATING THE NEW VERSION.
New York Publishing Houses Commence Shipping the New Bible.
New York, May 21.—At 11:55 o'clock Wednesday night a covered express wagon and a truck were backed up to the curbstone in front of the office of Thomas Funk & Wagnall, agents for the Oxford press. The drivers jumped to the ground and waited in silence.
A policeman came along and stopped with a suspicious glance. At precisely 12 o'clock the heavy front doors of the office were swung open and a man in light-colored suit and a woman in a long black dress came out. The man was Funk & Wagnall, each one representing one of the styles of the revised Old Testament. He started on a tour for the day, and got away with the first prize. Bookkeeper W. F. Oliver, at the same time, superintended the loading up of the express wagon and the truck. On the wagon were put two large cases and eight sacks filled with the new Bibles. The sacks held 100 Bibles each. The driver of the vehicle drove rapidly away in order that the sacks might go out by the first mail in the morning to Canada. The truck was loaded with cases. One firm has taken the very early edition of Bibles for the American Sunday School Union. The other firm has taken the very early edition of Bibles for the Oxford press. EARLY DEVELOPMENT OF INSANITY.
A Four-Year-Old Girl Deliberately Cuts Up a Baby.
PORT JEFFERSON, L. I., May 21.—Madison Lewis, a colored fireman and his wife live on the west side of the harbor. Their family consists of a girl 4 years of age and an infant 6 months old. Wednesday morning Mrs. Lewis let her four-year-old daughter and a neighbor's boy about 6 years old to take charge of the baby. Hardly had she left before the little girl proposed to the boy that they cut up the baby. She said, "I want to cut up the baby, but she won't let me." The boy ran, screaming to where Mrs. Lewis was, and informed her of what was going on. The mother hurried home, and when she entered her daughter met her and said, "Mother, just look at baby. I've cut her all up nice." When the mother reached the cradle the child was quite, while its face and neck was lying on the floor. She picked up the child and placed it in charge of a neighbor and went for a doctor, who said the little one could not recover. A trace of insanity is inherent in the Lewis family, and the little girl had often said to her mother that "baby ought to be cut up."

BRIEFERS.

—The game of "polo" at the Riverside rink to-night.

—Regular convention of Janesville Chapter No. 5, R. A. M., at Masonic hall this evening.

—The east side fire steamer will test a portion of the old hose in the department this evening.

—There will be attractive scenes at the rink this evening when the polo game will take place.

—The new company is now laying the new gas mains on Court street, having suspended operations on Bluff street until the grade of North First street is re-established.

—The Racine polo club which will play to-night at the Riverside rink, is a splendid club, and will come in full uniform which is very attractive. The rink will be a scene of much life and fun this evening.

—There are several very bad sidewalks in the city, that on Franklin street, under the railroad bridge, requires considerable repairing, and a little addition to the width would better accommodate the public.

—Little George, the twelve year old son of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Nelson, died this morning of scarlet fever. The burial will take place to-morrow morning at nine o'clock, from the home of the deceased parents, 33 Center avenue. In the loss of their little darling boy the parents have the heartfelt sympathy of the community.

—Some of the honorary members of the guards while in New Orleans, visited the old battle ground, and had a handsome picture taken of their party, while standing near the large "live oak" tree under which Sir Edward M. Packenham, the general-in-chief of the British forces, was killed, January 8th, 1815. This is one of the finest souvenirs the party brought home.

—Mr. Frank L. Harrows, superintendent of the Northwestern Iron Company's mines at Mayville, Wis., and son of Dr. and Mrs. L. J. Harrows of this city, was married in Milwaukee yesterday at noon to Miss Elizabeth M. Ketchum, of that city. The Rev. Rev. Bishop Welles, of the Episcopal church, officiated. Dr. and Mrs. Harrows were present, and witnessed the pleasant ceremony of the marriage of their son. Mr. Harrows' many friends here in his old home wish him and his happy bride a long and prosperous life. They will make their home in Mayville.

—The name "Bower City" was first applied to Janesville in 1857, by Mr. W. B. West, afterwards U. S. consul at Galway, Ireland. Mr. West was the author of a book, never published as a whole, in which he took great pride in calling Janesville the "Bower City," and by mutual consent, adopted by the people of this city, and so remains "unto this day." At that time there were very few shade trees in the corporate limits of the city outside the regular native forests. The "circular" ground at the foot of Jackson and Franklin streets, was a dense growth of "second growth" oak, and "hickory" glen" was well timbered with "native" stock. In other words, Janesville was "in the woods" at the time "Bower City" was applied.

—The Janesville Choral Union met in Cannon's hall last evening, with an attendance of over one hundred members. There is a lively interest taken in the city, in regard to this musical association, and it promises to be the largest and most successful ever organized in Janesville. The signs of the times indicate that the membership will run up as high as one hundred and twenty-five which will include the best musical talent coming from churches of all denominations. Mr. Torrens is a splendid leader, an excellent singer, a gentleman of culture, and thoroughly skilled in the art of music. It will generally be admitted that the music released at the past three seasons of the union has been more difficult than the members desire or can probably sing without much study and many rehearsals, but this will be remedied at the next session which will take place next Tuesday night, by using a number of popular and lighter pieces.

—Prestice & Evenson distinctly state that Archer's remedy has cured many cases of contracted consumption. Ask for circular. An entirely new medicine, guaranteed.

—Deaths of Deceased Soldiers.

Some days ago County Clerk W. F. Williams wrote a letter to headquarters at Washington for blank applications for "headstones" for deceased soldiers, and yesterday he received the following reply, which explains the reason why such stones cannot be furnished:

OFFICE OF NATIONAL CEMETERIES, Washington, D. C., May 13, 1885.

Mr. W. F. Williams, County Clerk, Janesville, Wis.:

Sir—In reply to your letter of May 12, 1885, I regret to inform you that the appropriation for furnishing headstones for soldiers' graves, is exhausted, and the department will therefore be unable to supply them in future unless further provision therefor shall be made by congress.

The blanks asked for are, however, enclosed, and you can, if you desire, forward your application for file, and whenever the necessary means shall be provided, the stones will be furnished. Very respectfully, your obedient servant,

R. N. BATES, Director.

Deputy C. M. Gen'l. U. S. A. In charge of National Cemeteries.

FOUND DEAD.

Stephen Toole Found Dead at His Home on South Main Street This Morning.

"Died of Disease."—The Finding of the Corpse.

This morning shortly after eight o'clock the Rev. G. W. Lawrence called at the home of Stephen Toole, residing alone in a little house opposite the residence of Dr. Humphrey, South Main street, and was surprised, after gaining entrance, to find the lifeless body of Mr. Toole in a large wood-box. The authorities were notified and Justice M. S. Frieland summoned a jury consisting of Messrs. C. E. Ransom, F. O. McLean, R. S. McGee, P. A. Maguire, Wm. Puffer and Thomas Dooley, who proceeded to the house of the deceased and viewed the body. It was found that the deceased had been lying in his home last evening, sitting by the window. This morning he had evidently prepared to light a fire, as the stove was full of wood ready to light. As stated before he was found in the wood-box, into which he had fallen while preparing to start his fire. It is supposed that he died of heart disease, and that the fatal moment arrived at the time he was getting something from the box, as his face was downward and it appeared that he must have fallen heavily, as his body was wedged tight in the box. The jury returned a verdict that he came to his death "by disease and not by violence."

Mr. Toole's wife died some two years ago, since which time he had lived alone, having no children or relatives, we understand, in this vicinity. It is said that he owned the little home where he lived, had $5 in money on his person and a small balance to his credit in the savings bank.

The remains were taken in charge by friends and will receive a Christian burial. The funeral will be held to-morrow at 9:30 o'clock, at St. Mary's church. Friends are invited to attend.

Robbins' Show.

A private letter from Col. Burr Robbins states that his show is meeting with flattering success at every point, and that the press is loud in its praise. On May 11th an exhibition was given at Clinton, Iowa, at which over eight thousand people attended and the Clinton Daily News of the next day speaks of the performance and Col. Robbins as follows:

Burr Robbins' Mammoth Combined Show reached this city Sunday morning and proceeded at once to erect their tents, which by the way, was the largest ever seen in this city. Early yesterday morning the crowd began to gather, and by ten o'clock the hour for the grand parade to begin the show was advertised. The parade was all that it was advertised to be and consisted of some thirty-five or forty wagons, elephants, ponies, two brass bands, and numerous other attractions, being in all one of the most splendid displays of the kind ever seen on our streets. At one o'clock the doors were opened and at two the performance began. The large pavilion was well filled, all eager to witness the exhibition. At two the performance began, and to say "very hot" was like saying "putting it mild." It was excellent. In the evening the crowd did not seem to have diminished in the least, there being many among the number who had attended in the afternoon, who were determined to see it again. The performance in the evening was better than in the afternoon, if such a thing is possible, and the applause at times was deafening. Mr. Robbins stated that they had played to 5,000 people at the afternoon and evening, and it must be said that there has not been a show in the memory of Clinton at which everything was conducted in so gentlemanly and quiet a manner as this one. The police say they have never seen a show so quiet. Mr. Robbins will not permit any "sleazy" to follow his show to rob the people. All who attended say the show was better worth fifty cents than any show that has visited this city for years. They appear at Sterling today. It is needless to say that when Burr Robbins spreads his tents in Clinton again he will meet with a hearty welcome. He conducts his shows on a strictly business plan and does not give his patrons their money's worth.—Ed. N. The immense crowd last night testified.

The Weather.

At seven o'clock this morning the thermometer indicated 53 degrees above zero. Partly cloudy, with north wind. At one o'clock p. m. the register was 77 degrees above zero. Partly cloudy with northeast wind. For the corresponding hours one year ago the register was 65 and 50 degrees above zero.

Circuit Court Notes.

The jury in the case of Ames vs. Gleason went out about three o'clock yesterday afternoon, and spent the night in meditation, and possibly prayer, in their jury room. This morning they returned into court and reported that there was no hope of their coming to an agreement. They were accordingly discharged. They stood six to five in favor of the defendant. There were but eleven jurors, one having been excused during the trial because he was taken ill.

The suit of Mrs. Katie E. Bradley against the Evening Wisconsin newspaper of Milwaukee, for $10,000 damages for injury to her reputation and feelings, caused by an article printed in that paper, some three years ago, which said that she had caused her husband to commit suicide by her conduct towards him, is now on trial, and is being ably fought. Messrs. J. V. Quarles and O. H. Fethers appear for the plaintiff, and Messrs. George P. Miller and Wm. R. Reger for the defendants. The case will probably be finished to-morrow night.

Death of an Old Settler.

Mr. John Turner died suddenly yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock at his home in the town of Harmony, aged 84 years. Mr. Turner, a few moments before his death, appeared to be in his usual health, and had gone to his bed to take a short sleep previous to supper. One of the family went to his room to call him to supper and there found that he was dead. Heart disease is said to be the cause of his sudden death.

Mr. Turner was one of the oldest settlers of Rock county, coming here in 1836 with Wm. and Joseph Spaulding. He was well known and highly respected by a large circle of friends. He leaves a wife and seven children, four boys, and three daughters—two sons and two

EVANGELICAL CONVENTION.

Last Evening—An Interesting Session.

This morning's session and the programme for this evening.

The convention of city churches met at the Congregational church last evening, a very good audience being in attendance. The meeting was opened by a prayer and short scripture reading by Rev. C. B. Wilcox, of Court Street church, after which the audience joined in a song led by Mr. L. F. Hatch, of Delavan. At the conclusion of these introductory services Rev. Dr. Hodge, of the Baptist church, arose and reviewed in a brief manner the inception and organization of this union service, giving also the programme for to-morrow, and ending by introducing the Rev. J. F. Conover, D. D., rector of Trinity church. Dr. Conover's subject was "Personal service of Christ," one of the leading points being a statement of the belief entertained by some people, that a church was an organization intended to do other churches in benevolent affairs and missionary work, instead of a place where every individual was to work for one thing, the increase of Christ's kingdom. Though churches may have different names, yet any person who would visit the various churches, would find that the same doctrine of salvation was being preached in all, and that the arms of brotherly love were always extended to any other congregation which might be in need of help. Perhaps it might seem strange that he, belonging to a communion usually considered very exclusive, should offer this sentiment, but it was also very fit that the representative of such a body should be called upon to give voice to it. It was one which very fittingly expressed his thought and he believed that this meeting would be blessed, and would prove a source of great good to the community by drawing close the bonds of fellowship connecting the different churches of the city.

The address was full of good points and was finally delivered, and was listened to with great interest by the audience. Rev. Dr. Hodge was to have delivered an address, but he said that on account of the late hour he would ask to be excused from his part and, after singing, the benediction was pronounced and the meeting dismissed.

The exercises this morning were opened by devotional exercises conducted by the Rev. C. B. Wilcox, and singing led by Mr. F. Hatch. The first topic was: "How to best meet the unbelief of the age." The subject was first treated by Mr. W. F. Warren in a very sharp, telling discourse, and was then thrown open to debate, Dr. Hodge and Mr. J. F. Conover, of Chicago, making some very interesting remarks upon it. The other subject was opened by Rev. C. E. Goldthorpe. His talk upon this subject was specially good, and it seemed as though he left nothing to be said. Rev. Dr. J. F. Conover, Rev. Dr. Hodge, Mr. J. H. Kinney, Mr. R. J. Bennett and Rev. C. M. Pollen, all cast new light on the subject.

The Christian convention will continue its meeting during this evening and to-morrow evening. The meeting this evening at the Congregational church will be addressed by Rev. Dr. M. G. Hodge, of the Baptist church. Subject: "Place of prayer in Christian Endeavor," and by Rev. A. J. Van Wagner, of the Congregational church. Subject: "Claims of Christ on Man."

G. A. B. Excursion to Portland.

Major James Davidson, of Sparta, was in the city last evening making arrangements for the G. A. B. excursion to Portland, Maine, next month. The Major is the Department Commander, G. A. B., of this state, and has just returned from the east where he has been making arrangements for the accommodation of the Wisconsin grand army members who will attend the grand encampment. The encampment will be held at Portland, June 23d, 24th and 25th. The following route has been adopted, the fare for the round trip from Chicago being $25, and half fare on all Wisconsin railroads to and from Chicago; the excursion tickets are good for thirty days; the train bearing the soldiers will leave Chicago on the afternoon of June 19th, at 4:15 arriving at Niagara Falls at 7 o'clock next morning, where it will lay over till 2 o'clock in the afternoon, giving the passengers ample time to view the Falls and its surroundings. Leaving there at the time designated via Utica, Clayton, which stands at the head of the St. Lawrence river, will be reached at 5:30 the following morning, June 21st. From there a ride by daylight on a steamboat will be taken through the Thousand Islands, arriving at Montreal at 6 o'clock that evening. Next morning, the 22d, at nine o'clock the train will leave Montreal, passing through the White Mountains and reaching Portland at 7 o'clock p. m., going direct from there to Old Orchard Beach. Lodgings will be taken at the Englewood hotel, where the department commander has engaged accommodations for the Wisconsin department. On the morning of the 23d, the will be established in the first jury room of the public building of Portland. He says it will be desirable for all comrades, old soldiers, sailors and their families, including the Woman's Relief Corps, who can do so, to go with him. Any further information desired can be obtained by writing to the department commander, James Davidson, at Sparta, Wisconsin, or L. M. Stevens, assistant quartermaster general, at the same place. Mr. L. L. Caufy, Wisconsin passenger agent of the Michigan Central railroad company, also stands ready to supply inquiries with any information desired.

This excursion will be one of the pleasantest of the season, and we understand a number of the grand army members of this city will join the party with their wives. Major Davidson went to Monroe this morning, intending to return to this city before going to his home at Sparta.

Missionary Affairs.

The annual convention of the Woman's Foreign Missionary society was held this year in the Methodist Episcopal church at Sharon, opening Tuesday, and adjourning this afternoon. A large number were in attendance, about fifty delegates from the eighteen auxiliaries in this district being present, besides many visitors from the various towns.

The officers chosen are familiar to the missionary workers of this city, being ladies, who have a good reputation for earnest, faithful work. They are:

President—Mrs. M. A. Marshall, of Deloit.

Corresponding Secretary—Mrs. Ella Herrick.

Treasurer—Miss Jennie Tibbon, of Janesville.

The vice presidents are the wives of several ministers throughout the district.

The delegates from Janesville were Mrs. C. B. Wilcox, Mrs. S. Lugg, Mrs. M. M. Phelps, Miss Jennie Tibbon, Mrs. Nicholas Smith and Mrs. C. A. Hunt, all of whom speak very highly of the hospitality shown by the ladies of Sharon, in providing for visitors.

The meeting was addressed by Mrs. Colwell, the prominent mission worker, and by many of the earnest helpers among the visitors, all agreeing that the gathering evidenced great gain in the good work, and that the convention next year would be even better than this has been.

DEATH OF FRELINGHUYSEN.

The Ex-Secretary of State, Gaillet Frelinghuysen, died at his home in New York, N. Y., May 21, at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, the physicians in attendance upon him reporting that he died of heart disease.

He sank into a comatose condition shortly after the announcement and at 3:30 p. m. breathed his last.

Mr. Frelinghuysen's mind had been a long time for some weeks, the result of his illness. Several times it was thought that he was dying, but he rallied and surprised his physicians and his family. Seven hours before he died he sank into a coma, and his wife, who was with him, found him in a comatose condition, and he was only able to utter a few words, which were "I am dying." His breathing was so light at times that only a test showed that he was alive.

Mr. Frelinghuysen was greatly devoted to his wife, and his family. He was a member of the Dutch Reformed church, and was a native of Holland. He was born in 1810, and died at his home in New York, N. Y., May 21, at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon.
